Often our potential sleeps within us. We interact with it every day when we dream, make plans, make complexes, feel imperfect and disappointed in ourselves.

Sometimes it is the pain of unrealization.

Sometimes it is risk, will and happiness to be yourself, pride, love for yourself.

Relationships are the interaction of complex components.

Emotions, feelings, awareness, reaction, observation...

Each component has a different formation rate. When it is formed, it begins to influence the actions.

One incoming act gives a pulse to a series of outgoing acts. Two actions with a difference of one minute have different meanings. Because one was made on the basis of comprehension of action, and the second was made on the basis of comprehension of feelings.

The second person comprehends the actions of the first own system of components and gives responses at his own speed.

Naked feelings. The body feels complete nudity and openness of internal reactions.

Nude feelings are associated with trust and fear.
There is active action before nudity. Nudity needs an act of taking off the covering clothes.

Prehistory: Zeus cuts off his father's genitals, Cronus, and threw them towards the sea.

So he deprived his father of the right to be the Supreme God.

The picture about the male power. It's not about only that power, what gives status. it's not about only that power, what Greeks was a condition to be a ruler. Also it's about the power of men to give a new beginning, an independent life. Without the participation of women.

Physiological birth is not the birth of personality. It certainly has nothing to do with the birth of a healthy, happy personality. Everyone does it to themselves. Every moment he chooses what to do with his feelings, ambitions, desires.
Happiness, freedom, favorite activity, the ability to love and ability to receive love.. All of this may not be born and remain within a malignant growth of unrealization.

Gorelina Varvara was born in Kazakhstan. She graduated from the Faculty of Art in 2012, the same year she moved to Russia. After the classical education she started looking for her style, color scheme and theme. In 2019, 17 paintings were presented at a solo exhibition. Check out Varvaras Instagram
